13. Preparation of Departmental Budgets and Advisory Committees.

Mr. A. Eachara Menon (Chittur-Rural).—Sir, the resolution standing in my name runs thus:—

"This Council recommends to the Government that the budgets of departments be prepared in consultation with the Advisory Committees of the Departments".

I have tabled this resolution not with the object of getting a chance for these committees to sit in judgment over the budgets prepared by the heads of departments and scrutinised by the Secretariat and passed by the Diwan. From the way in which the expenditure is incurred in the several departments it will be seen that after passing the budget there are several items of expenditure which heads of departments have to attend to as early as possible from various points of view. It will be seen that for the last 7 years from the budget on the expenditure side that the expenditure has been steadily increasing. To give you a real idea about it, I say take the Medical Department. For the last more than half-a-dozen years the expenditure under Medical Department had been increasing steadily. It was Rs. 4,06,344 in 1107; in 1108; Rs. 4,23,000; 1109 Rs. 4,25,000; 1110, Rs. 4,56,700; 1112, Rs. 4,85,000, etc. and in 1113 the figure was Rs. 5,10,000. Although we had these increments, the cry of the Government had been, whenever we aproach Government for any necessity, they were short of funds. The increments were very much in the years 1110 and 1111 and that was due to the very large increase in the establishment. We were having establishments for more than thousands of rupees on the expenditure side. Even though we are asking for a Lady Doctor at Chittur, Government have been saying that they were short of funds. There was no difference in the dietary charges, there was no change in the expenditure under bedding and clothing, there was no change under the cost of medicine. They are all the same. Increased amounts were spent for the establishment. We have been asking about these and the Government had been saying that they had to make the General Hospital here as great as possible, because it is situated in the capital of the State. The Advisory Committee ever since it was constituted, had been asking the Government to put the Wadakkancheri Dispensary which is the first town in Talappilli Taluk into as simple and up-to-date a manner as they possibly can. Now, it is a dirty hospital. It is a shame to the Government that that hospital should be in that manner. Therefore, simply to show to the authorities who prepare the budget that there are certain other very necessary things before they think of augmenting what they already have, it is that I have brought forward this resolution. I commend this resolution for the acceptance of the House.

Mr. V. K. Krishnankutty (Anthikad).—I second it.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—The Government regret that they cannot accept the resolution of the Hon'ble Member because the budget is prepared under certain special rules and according to them all the budgets will go to the Standing Finance Committee for careful scrutiny. That body contains 3 non-official members and they can make any alterations or suggestions that they wish to make. It is not feasible for each departmental budget to be scrutinised by a separate committee. There is no such procedure anywhere in any of the Legislative Assemblies. The budget, additional allotment and all sorts of expenditure connected with the budget are scrutinised by the Standing Finance Committee and that procedure is in vogue here also. The Advisory Committees will come into consideration only where large schemes have been sponsored and where any other administrative change has to be made. When such questions turn up, they are generally placed before such committees. Advisory Committees are not the proper bodies to scrutinise budgets and there is also another difficulty. An Advisory Committee constituted to look into Medicine, Public Health or Education budget that body will not have all the figures relating to the other departments before them. Only when you get a consolidated statement of the general receipts of the State as well as of all the possible expenditure under the several items of budget heads, can any non-official body express a valid opinion as to how much it can be appropriated to a particular department. Therefore the Advisory Committee that is now functioning with regard to the Development Departments can never be the final authority in considering the budget proposals. Even if the Advisory Committee goes through these proposals, again it will have to be scrutinised by the Finance Committee and the recommendations of the Advisory Committee can receive little or no weight because the relevant factors that should weigh with the Members of the Finance Committee are not the factors that would weigh with the Advisory Committee in making the recommendations. Therefore, there is no use in submitting these budgets or even the proposals under the several development schemes to an Advisory Committee. The proper Committee is the Finance Committee that is functioning. If any Member or if anybody has to make any suggestion that can be submitted to the Finance Committee, because there all the items of expenditure page after page and item after item are scrutinised. Further there is the general discussion on the Budget for two days in the Council when all the departments are touched upon and individual budgets and individual heads are scrutinised. Therefore, the work of the Advisory Committee in this connection will be only superficial and superfluous.

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly

Then there is also another difficulty. There will not be time for too many committees to go into the budget proposals. Because the budget if it should be useful should be accurate and if it should be accurate, it should be based on as many months' actuals as possible. It is with that intention that the budget is framed only towards the end of Meenam. The departmental heads forward them to the Comptroller's office by the beginning of Medam. There they will have to be elaborately scrutinised, especially with regard to fixed charges. That requires very careful and very long scrutiny, and after that all the proposals have to go to the Secretariat. They reach the Secretariat somewhere in the middle of Edavam. These proposals have to be very well scrutinised and then afterwards they have to be placed before the Standing Finance Committee. Therefore, there won't be time for another committee to sit and submit their own proposals. For example, suppose an Advisory Committee suggests an addition or a deletion. Then the paper has to go back to the departmental head. His remarks will have to be obtained. Where is the time for all that? Therefore, the best thing would be for the Advisory Committee to make their own suggestions during the course of the year and whatever proposals can be adopted by Government will ipso facto be adopted by Government. If the House or the Finance Committee or the Advisory Committee finds that any of their reasonable proposals have not been adopted then they can take any measure they like to make the Government accept them.

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly

That is the correct procedure. The correct procedure is not for the Advisory Committee to sit and scrutinise the budget during those critical weeks. The function of the Advisory Committee is to make suggestions during the course of the year. If they are acceptable they will be accepted. If the Committee or the House or if the Finance Committee or any other body feels that any of their recommendations have not been accepted or unreasonably rejected, then it is open to the House, it is open to them to impress upon the Government the importance and necessity of their suggestions. What I suggest is it will not be feasible first of all for the Committee to conduct any kind of scrutiny and secondly there is already a non-official committee that scrutinises the budget very carefully and over and above all that this is a very novel procedure. Nowhere else you will find committees except Finance Committees going through the budget proposals. For these reasons, Government regret that they will not be able to accept this resolution.

* Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri).— We are thankful to the Hon'ble the Finance Member for giving us a detailed description of the budget year after year. The important point that was stressed by the Hon'ble the Finance Member in opposing this resolution is that there is a competent body which goes by the name of the "Standing Finance Committee" which is given an opportunity to discuss the whole budget in detail, make recommendations, reasonable and acceptable—these are the words used by him—to the Government and because of that there is no necessity for the propasal that is now in the resolution viz., that the budgets be prepared in consulation with the Advisory Committees of the departments concerned. At the time of the constitution of these Advisory Committees on the first day of the Budget Session immediately following the appointment of Sir R. K. Shanmukham Chetty as the Diwan of Cochin, it was the biggest boast of this Government that they have constituted Advisory Committees as many as four attached to almost all the important departments of Government to take their advice in the matter of not only details but also of the policies underlying the running of the various departments.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).— That can still be done.

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri).— I am glad that the Hon'ble the Finance Member has given us an assurance that that policy will continue. But now, with regard to the proposition in hand, the important argument advanced by the Hon'ble Member in opposing it is the existence of that important body called the 'Standing Finance Committee'. As the unfortunate man who had the opportunity of being on this important committee of committees more than once, many times during the last 10 years, I must say I know something of the working of this working committee—the Standing Finance Committee.

* Speech not corrected by Hon'ble Member.

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly

Well, Sir, to give this House a sample of the utility, the importance, of this all-important Standing Finance Committee I have only to invite the attention of this Honourable House to the pages printed as Appendix to the Volume of the 1st day's proceedings of every budget session wherein minutes of the Standing Finance Committee will be printed. I have got in hand the latest of that sort. You will find on pages 98 to 106 of the proceedings of the 18th Karkatakam 1112 the minutes of the Standing Finance Committee that scrutinised the budget of this year. You will find there that I have been responsible in the company of my Honourable friends, the other two non-official Members, for making various suggestions and recommendations to the Government which we thought reasonable and which we wanted the Government to be embodied in the budget that would emerge from the Press as the final edition of the budget to be presented to this House in contradistinction to the so-called confidential copies that are sent to us after they are given to the press. You will find, Sir, not even one of those recommendations barring perhaps one—the only suggestion that was accepted by the Government regarding the recommendations of the Standing Finance Committee which sat in Karkatakam last which is with regard to the necessity of providing a small amount for rural reconstruction—was accepted by Government. Mind you, Sir, that the confidential budget of the type that I described sent to the Members of the Standing Finance Committee did not contain some provision for the big sum of Rs. 5000 for rural reconstruction in 200 villages of the State. It did not contain. I was responsible for that suggestion. I am glad that because of the fact that the Diwan was pleased to preside over the Standing Finance Committee at least for a few hours on the 1st day we were able to bring home to his mind that to keep up his name he has to make an attempt at providing at least a paltry sum for rural reconstruction in a country studded with villages, whose picture, of course, has been painted to you by your own officers. It was that suggestion that was accepted. But it does not come in in the minutes of the Standing Finance Committee. The Government wanted and succeeded in taking the credit for making that provision for themselves. Look at the injustice, the attitude of the Government. They did not provide for it. They were requested to provide for it. They were condescending to provide it, but they wanted to take the credit on themselves. Look at the shameful picture! That is the only thing that you have accepted of the various recommendations made (pp. 98 to 106). What is the use of spending the tax-payer's money by paying us T. A. and Daily Allowance for 3 days? I submit the earlier the Standing Finance Committee is abolished, if that is to continue working as it does now, the better for all concerned—for the Government, for the Members, for the villagers from whom you extort the taxes. You are taking your stand upon that commitiee to oppose this. Will you daresay that any of those recommendations contained in these pages have been accepted by you? What is the use of referring to that committee and its recommendations and its sitting for 3 days? Absolutely no use. Similarly, even if you accept this resolution and prepare the budget in consulation with the members, unless you have got the good mind to accept their recommendations even the acceptance of this resolution is not going to take us any further. Therefore, it is change of heart on the part of the Government that is wanted.

Mr. T. S. Balarama Ayyar (Trichur North).—On a point of information. Am I to take it that the confidential copy of the budget is printed before the Finance Committee meets?

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—The confidential copy is printed for the use of the Finance Committee. After that is passed, another copy is printed. Many items are changed after the Finance Committee meets. The Hon'ble Member was referring to some of the items. Some of them might not have been accepted. If these recommendations came from the Advisory Committee they too would have been probably rejected. There would be the same reasons for denying it there also. There is nothing inglorious about the Finance Committee and there is nothing too glorious about the Advisory Committee. The Finance Committee has its own value and it can do the function of a non-official body so far as budgets are concerned.

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly

Mr. T. S. Balarama Ayyar (Trichur North).—My point is copies for the use of the members of the Standing Finance Committee may be type-written instead of being printed.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—That is impossible. The budget is a voluminons thing and it requires very careful preparation.

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri).—I am sorry I have to contradict one statement of the Hon'ble Finance Member that confidential copies of the budget are printed to be circulated amongst the Finance Committee Members. They are printed, I do concede, but they are printed not only to be circulated amongst them but to be supplied to the press far in advance of the supply even to the Members of Finance Committee.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—That is a different question.

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri).—It is certainly a different question, but it is a most objectionable thing that you do.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—I don't know how it arises—the relationship between the press and the budget.

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri).—It does. I will show you how it does. Question has been asked how it affects the issue. I answer it by saying that papers which you subsidise, papers of which you are fond, even papers towards which you take a different attitude, all these papers publish the main contents of the budget and they reveal it also. What is the use of our keeping it confidential? I know for a fact that this year on the day on which the confidential copy was put into my hands .....

Mr. K. P. Kannan Nayar (Secretary to Government).—Which are the papers that we are subsidising?

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri).—Search your heart and you will find where it is.

Mr. K. P. Kannan Nayar (Secretary to Government).—I have been searching and I can't find it.

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri).— I know which papers do get the patronage of the Government. Everybody knows it. These papers reveal the contents of the budget. Then what is the use of our recommendations? There is the publication of your budget by important papers not only of the State also. The thing has gone out.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. Ayyappan).— The Member has to show the additional advantage of appointing an Advisory Committee.

Mr. K. P. Kannan Nayar (Secretary to Government.)— Who knows that the Finance Committee Members did not reveal?

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri.)— You are giving only the same reply that Sir Shanmukham gave on the banks of the Bharata river.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. Ayyappan).—The Member will confine himself to the point at issue.

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri.)— Then the Chair will be pleased to check them. Taunting remarks have been made that the members of the Standing Finance Committee gave it out to the Press.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. Ayyappan.) – What is the relevancy here?

Mr. P. Kumaran Ezhuthassan (Wadakkancheri).— The relevency is that these papers reveal the contents of the budget, even before the members of the Standing Finance Committee get the budgets in their hands and come here to discuss it and suggest changes. Because of the publication already made and because of the very favourable comments made by some of the papers—none daring to adversely comment—you find it difficult to accept even our reasonable recommendations. It has been stated by the Hon'ble the Finance Member that the cry of the Hon'ble Member may be due to the fact that some of my recommendations have not been accepted. I am not very much enamoured of my recommendations being accepted. I have a duty to point out things which I think to be right. I have only done that. It is your sweet will and pleasure to accept or reject it. What I submit is whether it is the recommendation of the Advisory Committee or whether it is the preparation of the budget in consultation with the members of the Advisory Committee as suggested in the resolution, it is the willingness of the Government to accept the suggestions that counts and nothing else. Therefore, it is a change of heart on the part of the Government that is wanted and if the Government is prepared to show that, then there is use of accepting the proposition that is placed before this House through this resolution.

The Hon'ble Chair asked me to show the relevancy, the necessity or the advantage of having the budgets prepared in consultation with the members of the Advisory Committee. It has been stated, Sir, that Advisory Committees have been constituted with a view to associate non-officials more and more with the detailed working of the various departments allotted to the various committees. I am a member of the Advisory Committees on Medicine. I had the privilege of travelling at our own expense throughout the State and visiting all the dispensaries and hospitals in the company of the Chief Medical Officer. To his credit it must be said that he was prepared to take us free of cost at times when Sirkar boats are available. And various recommendations have been placed before the Government by us as recommendations of this Committee, one of which was instanced by the Hon'ble mover of the resolution relating to that big hospital in my own place containing 8 beds with 36 in-patients on an average attending that hospital.

The recommendations of that Committee have not been accepted. If the attitude of the Government continues to be like this, there is no use in accepting this proposition. If the budget is prepared in consultation with the members of the Advisory Committees, they will be able to tell the Government which item should be given preference over certain other items and which all should be included and which not. It is in that way that consultation with the members will be useful. Various difficulties have been pointed out. One difficulty pointed out was that there is no sufficient time. If there is time for submitting the various budgets to the Standing Finance Committee then certainly you can get time for consulting the members of the Advisory committees also. The question of time, so, will not very much handicap the precise point. As I said it is only a change of heart that is wanted. The simple question is that if you are prepared to do it, do it.

Mr. A. V. Moothedan (Chalakkudi).—Sir, I oppose this resolution because in my opinion no useful purpose will be served. First of all there are only four Committees. Certain of the major departments are not under the Advisory Committee, for example, Land Revenue. Now seven departments are going to be transferred to a Minister. The Minister will be our own man. The Minister is responsible to the legislature and he will frame the budgets for the departments which are transferred to him. Then what is the use of consulting with the members of the Advisory Committees? There is no necessity for this resolution.

* Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—I only want to make one or two observations with regard to the two objections raised by the Finance Minister. The first is that these committees will not improve matters and its usefullness cannot be greater than that derived by consulting the members of the Standing Finance Committee. The second objection is shortage of time. The idea of this Committee is that before preparing the budgets and when a rough account is taken by the Heads of Departments they should be consulted so that they may make any suggestions to the Government. I cannot understand any objection to such a procedure. Now the Heads of Departments prepare the budget in consultation with his officers. Now the budget prepared by each Head of the Department is sent to the Secretary. What is the objection before it is sent to the Secretary to consult the members of that Committee? What is the objection in asking them whether they are satisfied with this budget, whether they desire to make any alterations in the budget and so on? There is another point.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—Without interruption I may say one thing. Whenever there is a new proposal to be introduced in the budget the Heads of Departments have to obtain the previous sanction of the Government. This is a general rule. The Heads of Departments cannot introduce new items of expenditure just on the eve of the preparation of the budget. Whenever a new item of expenditure is entered in the budget he should quote the authority by which he has entered that item. So the Advisory Committees sitting to scrutinise the budget cannot make any suggestion. Any new item of expenditure for which special sanction has not been obtained for will generally be omitted in the Secretariat.

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—What I am saying is this. In preparing a budget, say for the Panchayat Department, the Head of the Department makes allotment under various heads. If the budget is prepared in consultation with the members of these Committees they can point out certain suggestions. The Head of the Department may have provided under one item a huge amount and under another only a low amount.

* Speech not corrected by the Hon'ble Member.

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—There is nothing like that. There is only a lump provision and that is for works which are not done in the previous year. In all other cases very minute details have to be given.

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—Suppose some 50 wells are to be provided in the different Panchayats.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—Then they will be new proposals. Government proceedings should be quoted against each item. If previous sanction is not obtained 99 cases out of 100 will be rejected. Only in very exceptional cases items for which previous sanction has not been obtained are included in the budget. It is almost negligible.

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—What I say is we should be consulted when the budget is prepared.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—There is no use consulting the members at the time of preparing the budget. The consultation should be in the early part of the year.

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—I have observed on many an occasion that there is no member on the Government side other than the Finance Member who can speak for hours together without saying anything. He has now been talking for twenty minutes. I challenge anybody whether they have understood anything from him. Very logical, very reasonable, but there is nothing. That is the peculiar genius of this Member.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—The Hon'ble Member has not understood the technical point.

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—I can only speak with common sense.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—I think the Hon'ble Member is thinking of the preparation of budgets in Municipalities. There are advisory committees in Municipalities and in the preparation of the budgets the Chairmen are consulting these Committees. But that is a procedure which is quite different from the procedure adopted here. Unless there is a specific sanction and unless there is a definite order to support a new proposal it is generally not included. It will be rejected simply on the ground of want of sanction.

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—In Municipalities what we generally do is that in preparing the budget in the first place we make allotments under the various heads. Then the question arises how it should be divided. This is done in consultation with the Committees. Similarly I have not understood any difficulty in placing all these facts before the Committee and asking for their opinion. I quite understand the Finance Minister's contention that once works which are included in the previous budget and the sanction of the Government is received, it should not be changed. I concede this point. I also concede the point that in making vital alterations, Government sanction is necessary. Suppose there is an item of wells. Cannot we say that the money should be spent in some particular villages? Cannot these committees suggest that in which Panchayat more money should be spent for the purpose of water supply? Suppose they make suggestions and then is it not possible for the Head of Department to alter the budget according to those suggestions? Government do not say that 200 rupees should be spent on such and such a well. Additional funds are forthcoming every year. Every year funds are being added and fresh works are undertaken.

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).—For incorporating a new item of expenditure the Departmental Head will have to get the sanction of the Government. Suppose the Advisory Committee proposes a new item. Then how can we include it in the budget without obtaining the sanction of the Government?

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—The Government do not dream all these things. It is on the information supplied by the Heads of Departments that they are doing this.

Mr. K. Achyuta Menon (Diwan Peishkar).—Suppose you want a well in the foreshore which has not been in existence. The proper time for obtaining Government sanction for including this item of work in the budget is not at the time of the preparation of the budget but very much earlier.

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—Before you ask for sanction, consult them. The Advisory Committee is sitting throughout the whole year.

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).— That is being done.

Dr. A. R. Menon (Pallippuram).—You include only those items sanctioned by the Government.

Mr. K. Achyuta Menon (Diwan Peishkar).— The budget is a forecast of the income and expenditure of accepted proposals.

Mr. C. R. Iyyunni (Trichur South).—On a point of information, suppose one Advisory Committee has made half a dozen proposals. All those proposals have been submitted to the Government and the Government accept three proposals and reject the other three. There have been a number of meetings of the Advisory Committee and there have been 50 accepted and 50 unaccepted proposals. Out of this fifty, can the Head of the Department provide only for 25?

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).— He cannot do that. He should send up all the fifty. The Government decides.

Mr. C. R. Iyyunni (Trichur South).—Does anybody scrutinise that all the proposals sanctioned by the Government are included in the budget?

Rama Varmha Tampuran (Comptroller of Accounts).— This is one of the items that we do. A register is maintained where the section clerk notes down all the sanctioned works. The clerk's duty is to check this list with the register. If he finds any new item is omitted he notes it down in the Register or send in an O. M. to the departmental head and gets information why it has been omitted.

Resolution was, by leave withdrawn.
